

Our world is changing. There is a cultural shift happening around us, whether we welcome it or not. This change insists on us rearranging our priorities as we move to a new fast-moving, transactional, and all out age of re-inventiveness that pushes us to the self-actualization of getting what we want and what we came here for; yet, often forgetting the big picture. - the things and people that really matter, what truly fulfills and what really counts in life.

During this 6-week worship series, we will push back. We will aim at reaching for God's dream, for us, for our families and for our world. We will be invited to let God draw us back in to God's true vision of self-fulfillment, audacious faith, faithful hope, and genuine love as we:
